Prerequisites

You must fulfil specific educational and professional experience criteria to become eligible for the PMP® certification. Your project management experience should be gained within the eight years preceding your application submission.

Option 01

If you have a four-year bachelor's degree or its equivalent, you need:

- At least three years (36 months) of distinct, non-overlapping professional project management experience.
- Completion of 35 hours of project management coursework.
- At least 4,500 hours spent overseeing and leading projects.

Option 02

If you have a secondary education degree (high school diploma, associate's degree, etc.), you need:

- To meet our requirements, applicants must have a minimum of 60 months of unique and non-overlapping project management experience.
- Acquiring 35 hours of project management education has been accomplished.
- A minimum of 7,500 hours of experience in leading and directing projects.

OR

Ensure your project management experience reflects the duties, knowledge, and skills outlined in the Project Management Professional Examination Content Outline. This means matching the responsibilities of initiating, planning, executing, monitoring and controlling, and closing projects. While expertise in all process groups for a single project isn't obligatory, having experience in each group across various projects is essential. Aligning with the Content Outline's guidelines showcases your project management proficiency effectively.

PMP Training

Rajan was helpful in booking the course. Ch. Ramesh was an amazing instructor. I learnt a lot from him in terms of abbreviations and connecting the PM modules. I had PM experience and attending this course with Ramesh Solidified the experience with proper PM lingo and now I feel more confident and skilful.

PMP Training taught by Laxman Narayan

Joined the Project Management Professional (PMP) Certification Virtual Training courses taught by Laxman Narayan. Excellent course support and arrangements.

Laxman taught the course material straight to the points and made me understand the PMP principles clearly. And experience sharing can also tie the concepts to real cases and made things more easily to understand. Overall a 5 star training course!
